

Moravian Team for Racial, Cultural, and Ethnic Reconciliation
PRESENTS

The Best of Enemies

SCREENING & DISCUSSION

Sunday, February 16, 2020 – 2:00 pm

Trinity Moravian Church
220 East Sprague Street
Winston-Salem, NC 27127

This 2019 film starring Taraji P. Henson and Sam Rockwell is based on the true story in Durham, NC of the encounter between the Grand Wizard of the Ku Kux Klan, C. P. Ellis, and black activist Ann Atwater. While co-chairing a series of meetings on school desegregation, the two found their preconceptions about each other challenged – and they grew to be lifelong friends.

The film is rated PG-13 and contains material that may be unsuitable for younger audiences. The screening will be followed by small group discussions to explore how working together with people who are different than ourselves can produce lasting change.

Sponsored by the Moravian Team for Racial, Cultural, and Ethnic Reconciliation

Moravian Team for Racial, Cultural, and Ethnic Reconciliation
PRESENTS

The Best of Enemies

SCREENING & DISCUSSION

Sunday, February 16, 2020 – 2:00 pm

Trinity Moravian Church
220 East Sprague Street
Winston-Salem, NC 27127

This 2019 film starring Taraji P. Henson and Sam Rockwell is based on the true story in Durham, NC of the encounter between the Grand Wizard of the Ku Kux Klan, C. P. Ellis, and black activist Ann Atwater. While co-chairing a series of meetings on school desegregation, the two found their preconceptions about each other challenged – and they grew to be lifelong friends.

The film is rated PG-13 and contains material that may be unsuitable for younger audiences. The screening will be followed by small group discussions to explore how working together with people who are different than ourselves can produce lasting change.

Sponsored by the
Moravian Team for Racial, Cultural, and Ethnic Reconciliation